Experia Summit Debuts as a Groundbreaking Innovation Destination Where Faith, Business, and Technology Converge

Three transformational summits unite under one roof October 5–8, 2026, in Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — Experia Summit, a first-of-its-kind immersive innovation experience, will make its debut October 5–8, 2026, at the Hilton Los Angeles Airport, bringing together leaders from across the worlds of artificial intelligence, entrepreneurship, ministry, and technology for four days of collaboration, discovery, and transformation.

More than a traditional conference, Experia Summit is an immersive destination designed for leaders who don't simply want to hear about the future—they want to experience it.

Derived from the Latin word experientia, meaning “experience,” Experia invites attendees into a living environment where imagination becomes tangible through interactive technology, hands-on demonstrations, curated conversations, and practical learning experiences that inspire meaningful action.

“The future isn’t something you wait for—it’s something you step into,” said Pastor Keith L. Odom, Founder of Experia Summit. “Experia was created to bring together visionary leaders who are shaping what’s next in ministry, business, and technology. Our goal is simple: help people experience innovation in ways that lead to real transformation.”

Three Summits. One Transformative Experience.

Experia Summit brings together three premier conferences under one unified experience:

- AI Summit — Exploring artificial intelligence, automation, ethics, and the future of intelligent technology.
- Entrepreneur Summit — Equipping founders, innovators, and business leaders to launch, grow, and scale organizations.
- Church & Technology Summit — Empowering pastors and ministry leaders to leverage technology for greater Kingdom impact.

By intentionally bringing these communities together, Experia creates a unique cross-sector environment where ideas, innovation, and collaboration flourish.

Built for the Leaders Shaping Tomorrow

Experia Summit serves a diverse community of leaders, including:

- Pastors and ministry leaders preparing the Church for the digital age.
- Entrepreneurs building innovative businesses.
- Technology professionals and AI pioneers developing next-generation solutions.
- Corporate executives, nonprofit leaders, educators, investors, and strategic partners seeking practical innovation and meaningful collaboration.

Attendees will participate in immersive technology showcases, innovation labs, interactive workshops, executive conversations, networking experiences, and keynote presentations designed to move beyond inspiration into implementation.

Designed to Inspire Action

Every element of Experia has been intentionally created to provide practical value. Participants will have opportunities to:

- Discover emerging technologies through hands-on demonstrations.
- Explore real-world applications of artificial intelligence.
- Build strategic partnerships across industries.
- Learn from nationally recognized speakers and thought leaders.
- Leave with actionable strategies that can be implemented immediately.

Global Vision

Organizers expect 750 to 1,000 in-person attendees, with more than 5,000 digital participants joining from around the world. The event is projected to generate 50,000+ online media impressions during event week while connecting leaders from across the United States and multiple nations.

Partnership Opportunities

Experia Summit is currently welcoming corporate sponsors, technology partners, ministry organizations, and community collaborators who share its vision of equipping leaders for the future.

Partnership opportunities include title sponsorships, track sponsorships, interactive innovation labs, digital experiences, and community initiatives that expand access through scholarships and technology grants.

About Experia Summit

Experia Summit is the immersive innovation destination where faith, business, and technology converge. More than a conference, Experia creates transformational experiences that empower leaders to imagine what's possible, embrace innovation, and build the future with confidence. Through interactive learning, strategic collaboration, and practical application, Experia equips today's leaders to navigate tomorrow's opportunities.

The inaugural Experia Summit will take place October 5–8, 2026, at the Hilton Los Angeles Airport in Los Angeles, California.
